Today the North Hennepin Community College Foundation was advised that Alison Klug a/k/a Alison Reily has pleaded guilty to six counts of theft by swindle. Ms. Klug was an independent contractor who performed bookkeeping services for the Foundation. Her sentencing is scheduled for July 24, 2017. More information is available on the Hennepin County Attorney's site: <http://www.hennepinattorney.org/news/news/2017/may/klug-reily-guiltyplea>

The Foundation will continue to cooperate with authorities as the legal process unfolds. In the meantime, our efforts to recover and rebuild from the theft continue. We are thankful for the support our donor community has demonstrated in the wake of this event and remain committed to providing scholarship opportunities for our students.
